

Liz Wolf
Sculptor

“Sowing her Oats”

The title for my sculpture Sowing Her Oats is taking on an opposite meaning than the familiar saying sowing his oats. The sculpture literally shows this female horse figure sowing seed with one hand and reaching for more with the other from the bag hanging off to her side. She represents women as the providers. She is one from a series of figures I have sculpted. The others from this series are a buffalo, longhorn, and elk.